

Alabama Judge Freed, Insists He Defied Order

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The acquittal of former Judge George Wallace in a contempt charge last week in the role of a potential candidate for governor, boasting he defied civil rights investigators and got by with it.

Wallace insisted he disobeyed a federal court order, despite the court's finding that he had complied with it and actually helped the U. S. Civil Rights Commission get access to voter registration records.

The former state judge declared he had successfully defied the authority of the federal government and the civil rights agency. "They were defied and backed down," he said.

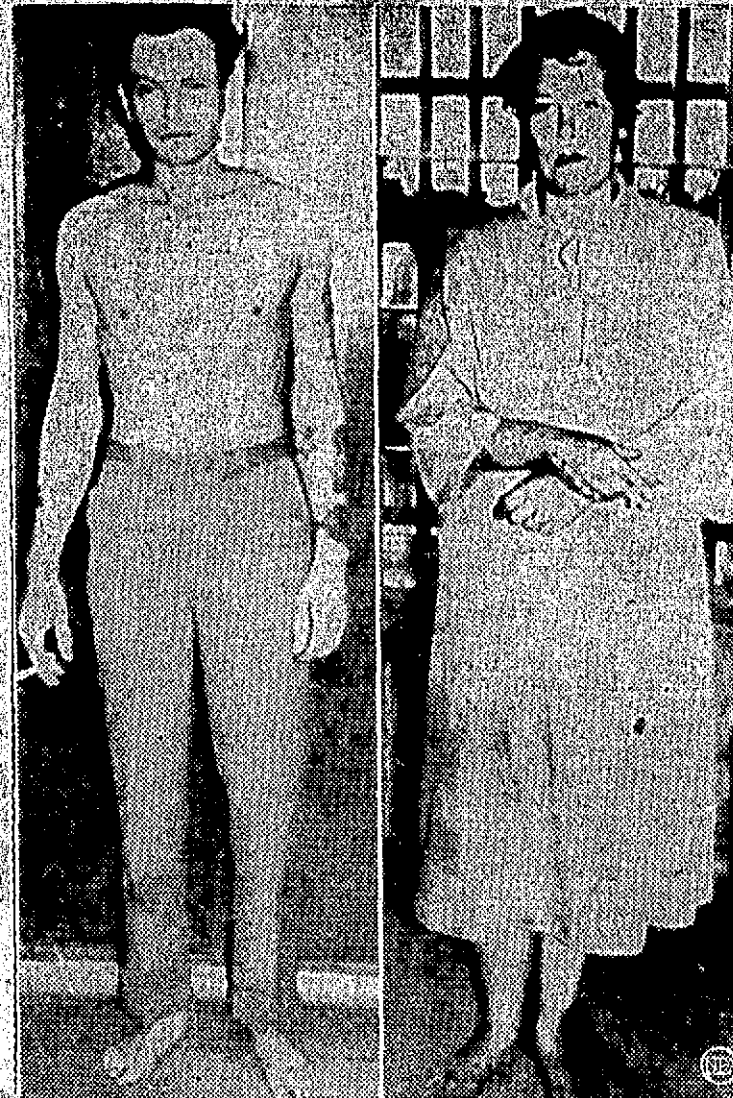

"This only shows," said Wallace, "that you just sit them (federal agents) and back them to the wall, they will hunt any way to back away."

Wallace's term expired last week. He was under federal court order from U. S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. to make the records available to commission agents. Instead he turned them over to grand juries hastily summoned in Barbour and Bullock counties.

Johnson ruled Monday that because the grand juries made the records available for examination Wallace carried out the effect of his order and only pretended to defy the court.

The federal jurist said Wallace from all appearances retained control of the registration records after giving them to the grand juries. And it was Wallace himself.

Continued on Page Three

CAPTURED—George Albert Scott, left, wanted in California on a charge of murder, and his girl friend, wrestler Barbara White of Phoenix, Ariz., and Los Angeles, Calif., are shown in jail in Texas after a motel gun battle with police and FBI agents. — NEA Telephoto

Talmadge Submits a School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D-Ga.) today proposed a constitutional amendment to vest exclusive control of public schools in the states and communities.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, Talmadge said such an amendment would settle the school integration issue.

Talmadge, governor of Georgia before coming to the Senate two years ago, said that under such a provision, citizens would be free to determine for themselves—in accordance with local conditions and prevailing attitudes—how and when their schools would comply with the Supreme Court's school decision.

The proposed amendment, to become effective, would have to be approved by two-thirds of the House and Senate, and then ratified by three-quarters, or 37, of the states.

Talmadge said that seven other Southern Democratic senators were joining him as co-sponsors of his proposal. He said they were Sen. Harry Byrd and John Robertson of Virginia, Olin Johnson of South Carolina, Lister Hill and John Sparkman of Alabama and John Stennis and James Eastland of Mississippi.

Talmadge said adoption of his proposal would prevent destruction of schools in the South, would end any threat of federal control of education and would assure uninterrupted instruction for all children regardless of color or residence.

Bill to Remove a Judge Is Stymied

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill which might be used to try to force removal of Little Rock Traffic Judge Robert W. Lester from the Little Rock School Board has been submitted in the House.

The bill would prohibit any regularly-elected judge from serving on a school board. If he refused to relinquish one of the positions voluntarily, he would be removed from the board.

The measure was introduced by Reps. John P. Bethell of Prairie County and Lucien C. Rogers of Crittenden County. Bethell said the bill was not aimed at Lester, who is a former House member.

If the bill becomes law, its constitutionality probably will be questioned. A section of the state constitution provides that "millions of officers of the public schools and notaries may be elected to fill any executive or judicial office."

Term on Board Is Confirmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Senate yesterday confirmed Gov. Orval E. Faubus' appointment of Bennie F. Ryburn of Monticello to another five-year term on the board of Arkansas A. and M. College at Monticello.

The appointment has been given in some quarters as part of an effort to force Horace P. Thompson from the presidency of A. and M. This interpretation has been denied by Faubus.

Virginia to Ask Rehearing in Race Case

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Atty. Gen. A. S. Harrison Jr. notified the Virginia Supreme Court today the state will seek a rehearing of the case in which the court knocked down Virginia's anti-integration laws.

In a 5-2 decision Jan. 19, the court held Virginia's package of laws designed to prevent integration in the schools was unconstitutional. The court held, too, the constitutional requirement for the General Assembly to maintain an efficient public free school system still was alive.

The effect of today's notice and the petition which Harrison expects to file later will stay the court's order invalidating the school laws.

The apparent intention of the state administration's move was to forestall the reopening of three public white schools in Charlottesville and Warren County closed under state law after federal courts ordered Negroes admitted.

Apparently, however, the move could not have this effect at Norfolk where in a local situation a federal court held the closure law unconstitutional and restrained authorities from closing a public school to prevent integration. Six schools are closed in Norfolk.

Garage Man Killed in Ashdown Shooting

ASHDOWN, Ark. (AP)—An Ashdown garage operator was killed by a blast from a double-barreled shotgun here today, officers reported.

Dead is Ernest Merrell, about 50. Sheriff Audrey Thrash said Lufkin Gross, 50, the victim's father-in-law, was arrested in connection with the slaying.

The shooting occurred in Gross' house, the sheriff said. Gross is a commercial fisherman.

Thrash said apparently Merrell and his wife had been "having trouble."

Gross was jailed on an open charge.

The Merrells have two children.

Hussman Selected Outstanding Boss

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—Walter E. Hussman, publisher of the Camden News and president of the Palmer group of Arkansas newspapers, is considered the "Outstanding Boss" of 1958 by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce here.

The Jaycees awarded Hussman a certificate of appreciation at their weekend Awards Banquet.

Mother of Local Woman Succumbs

Mrs. C. C. Mackey, aged 71, a resident of Delight, died at her home Saturday. Survivors include her husband, two daughters, Geneva Mackey and Mrs. Otis Gray of Hope, three sons, J. M. of Camby, Calif.; W. F. of Wilkesboro and Charles of Hot Springs.

Russia Boasts of Missile, Then Calls for Ban

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (EP)—The Soviet Union has started serial production of intercontinental ballistic missiles, Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared today.

"If the Soviet Union can launch a rocket hundreds of thousands of kilometers into outer space, it can launch powerful rockets with pinpoint accuracy to any part of the globe," he said.

He did not elaborate on what he meant by serial production of the Soviet Communist party in the Kremlin, the party chairman and premier said the Communist countries now "stand at the head of all progress."

More than 1,500 delegates from throughout the Soviet Union and Communist parties in 70 other countries applauded Khrushchev's speech.

Khrushchev said a key task in the Soviet Union's new seven-year economic plan is to bring an end to the cold war and a lessening of international tension. But he also called on his people once more to:

1. Catch up with and surpass the leading capitalist countries in per capita output.

2. Ensure the Soviet Union's triumph in the peaceful economic competition with the capitalist countries.

3. "Strengthen further the economic and defense might" of the Soviet Union.

Although he said expansion of heavy industry would still have priority, Khrushchev promised the Soviet people a substantial rise in the standard of living as a result of the increase in his country's economic potentialities. Further technical progress in all economic spheres, and a "continuous growth of the productivity of Socialist labor."

The Soviet people, he said, have reached "such summits" that they now have the chance to enter a "new, important period of development, a period of extensive building of Communist society."

In the political field he called for "further consolidation of the Soviet Socialist System, the unity and solidarity of the Soviet people, development of Soviet democracy, the activity and initiative of the broad masses in the building of communism, extension of the functions of public bodies in matters of state importance, increase in the organizational and educational role of the party and the Socialist state, and an all-out strengthening of the alliance between the workers and the peasants and of the friendship of the peoples of our country."

Charges Russia Is Trying to Delude World

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Soviet leaders are trying to delude the world into believing they want to end the cold war while actually seeking advantage to win it.

Nevertheless he told a news conference, the United States feels this spring is about the right time for a high level East-West conference on Germany and European security since it is sometimes possible to reach peace-promoting agreements with the Soviets through tough bargaining.

Dulles said the United States would be delighted to get an effective reunification of Germany by any means fair to all sides. But he ruled out Russia's proposal for a confederation of West Germany and Communist East Germany because, he said, that is designed to secure the permanent partition of the German nation.

Investigating was Deputy Sheriff Herbert Griffin who said there was no evidence of foul play.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

For benefit of officials, organizations and interested citizens, Hempstead County has subscribed to the Daily Legislative Digest.

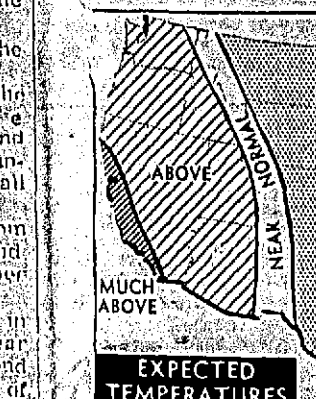

What lists the daily proceedings of the Arkansas Legislature. County Clerk Dick Turnage is custodian of the Digest and is keeping it up to date daily.

County Judge U. G. Garrett urged any person or organization interested in the progress of legislation make use of the Digest without charge. Copies of any particular bills can be obtained upon request made to the county clerk.

Leonard L. Graham of Henderson, Texas will move to Hope about February 1. He is new field executive for the Caddo Council Piney Woods Boy Scout district. Mr. Graham replaces Jim City who resigned to accept a job with local station KXAR.

EXPECTED PRECIPITATION
Precipitation from mid-January to mid-February is expected to exceed normal along the Gulf Coast and Atlantic seaboard, with considerable snow from Virginia northward. Subnormal amounts are indicated for the Missouri and upper Mississippi Valley areas and also for the western intermountain states.

EXPECTED TEMPERATURES
The 30-day outlook for the period of mid-January to mid-February calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals from the Continental Divide eastward to the Atlantic seaboard, with greatest departures over the southern half of the country. Above normal temperatures are indicated west of the Divide.

Private School Board Declines to Comment

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Officials of two private schools today declined to discuss the city school board's proposal to reopen public high schools on a temporary, segregated basis.

The school board has asked U.S. District Court here to open the door for high schools while the board works out a new plan to desegregate them. A hearing on the request is scheduled Feb. 3.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus shut the schools Sept. 12 to avoid integration.

Several private ones were established to take care of some of the 3,700 students displaced by the public school closings. The private schools are for whites only.

W. C. Brashers, superintendent of Raney High, said he would not care to comment on the board's proposal.

And W. E. Middleton, principal of Baptist High, said: "I have no pro or con statement to make about the board's request."

Middleton added: "To feel it would be difficult for Baptist High students who have just completed three months of school work here to take up at any other school new such a change would pose a number of problems."

Yesterday Raney High applied to the Arkansas Education Department for state aid for transfer students in the 11th grade. Application had been made earlier for 10th and 12th grade students.

Probers Told How Hoffa Ran Truck Firm

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators were told today the business agent of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa's own local drummed up $10,771 in trucking business as a sideline.

The agent, Roland McMaisters of Detroit Local 209, refused on grounds of possible self-incrimination to answer questions.

The story of McMaisters' sideline was told by William Rumminger of Birmingham, Mich., a salesman for the Douglas Trucking Lines in Detroit.

In response to questions by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy, Rumminger said he had, since 1953, operated a sales firm called the Aero Carriage Co. to line up business for trucking firms on a commission basis.

"Business was bad," Rumminger said until McMaisters approached him.

He said he agreed to split commissions 50-50 with McMaisters and suddenly the account prospered with the McMaisters Steel Corp. in Detroit.

Rumminger said he did not pay commissions to McMaisters directly, but to a concern called the M & C Carriage Co. From 1955-57, he said, these commissions totaled $19,711.07.

"Who was in the company I did not know," he said.

Kennedy said he has a statement from Wayne County officials indicating that M & C Carriage Co. is owned and controlled by McMaisters.

Rumminger's testimony kicked off another year of committee inquiries into alleged improper practices in the labor-management relations field.

The committee has identified McMaisters as a right-hand man to Hoffa. It has denounced Hoffa's connections with gangsters and racketeers and his handling of the union's affairs.

Two persons were painfully but not believed critically injured in separate accidents in this area.

Last night on a railway crossing a motor scooter ridden by Cuy Yates went out of control and piled on top of its rider. Yates suffered a badly injured leg.

Sunday afternoon near Hope Troy Burson Jr. of Fulton shot himself in the leg accidentally while in the woods near Wafer's Crossing on Highway 97 west. Although painful, he is not considered seriously injured.

Kidnaper Threatens Wally Cox Family

NEW YORK (AP)—Wally Cox television comedian, and his wife and two children have been threatened with kidnapping unless he pays $1,500.

The threat was contained in a note delivered in a restaurant Monday to his manager.

Two young men handed the note to a hitchhiker girl. The men left the restaurant without being detected.

Cox was reported unruffled by the threats.

House Gets Bill to Add More Roads to Highway System

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas House today received a new "Millum bill," to add 10 to 12 miles of county roads in each county to the state highway system.

A similar bill, by Sen. Roy Milum of Harrison, was one of the most controversial measures in the 1957 session. It was passed.

Today's bill was introduced by freshman Rep. Lowell Whittington of Franklin County.

It would require the state Highway Commission to annex a minimum of 10 miles or a maximum of 12 miles of county roads in each county to the state system by July 1, 1959.

The Highway Commission showed no enthusiasm for the Milum act but had no choice but to follow it.

The House passed a senate bill to provide that when two or more candidates qualify in a primary election they shall be listed on the ballot in the preferential primary. When there are only two candidates they are not voted on until the final primary. The vote was 80 to 5.

Another Senate bill would require judges to resign before seeking any non-judicial office. The vote was 55 to 31.

The Senate bills now go to Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Require police inoculations for all children entering schools.

Require proof of payment of poll tax from all liquor dealers.

Turn unclaimed human bodies over to the Arkansas Medical Center for research.

The House amended a Senate bill which would provide a $5,000 payment to the schools of any state policeman killed in line of duty.

Under the amendment only widows and children would be eligible. The payment would be made from State Police funds, rather than from Highway Department funds as the Senate specified.

Bills introduced today would:

Regulate licensing of monument manufacturers and salesmen.

Provide for withholding of state funds from any school district which does not lower tax millage rates when property assessments are increased.

Provide that when a public school is closed as an anti-integration measure, its average daily attendance of the last year of operation would be used for computation of state funds allotments when it is reopened.

Armit Taylor New Highway Commissioner

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Armit Taylor, the newest director on the Arkansas Highway Commission, is no stranger to politics but he wants none of it in his new job.

Taylor 59, a native of Clarksville, has been both a state representative and senator, member of the state Board of Education, a director of the Game and Fish Commission and legislative secretary to former Gov. Ben Laney.

His appointment to the Highway Commission was approved yesterday by the Senate.

He says of his new post: "I want to go in there and help other members keep things as honest and clear of politics as it has been in the past."

This was a reference to the non-political status taken by the department after a constitutional amendment in 1952.

Taylor has an insurance agency at Clarksville and has been in that business for 25 years.

His record of service in public life began in 1923 when he was elected to the Arkansas House of Representatives. Two years later he was elected to the Senate and served until 1941. During this period he was also on the state Board of Education. From 1944 to 1953 he was a director of the state Game and Fish Commission and legislative secretary to Gov. Laney from 1945 to 1947.

Married and the father of two children, Taylor is a graduate of Hendrix College at Conway.

For relaxation, he likes fishing.

Highway Bond Issue Before Legislature

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A proposal that the Arkansas Highway Commission issue an additional five million bonds was ready for final action in the Arkansas Legislature today.

Identical bills were introduced in both the House and Senate yesterday and now can be called up for action at any time. A brief delay in action in both houses failed.

Introduced by Sen. Jerry Seaton of Hazen and Rep. Paul Van Dusen of Perry County, the bills require voter approval of the bond issue at a special election and impose a new one-mile tax on trucks and large passenger vehicles to retire the bonds.

Sen. Seaton estimated the bonds could be retired in five years but the tax would continue in effect. He said he anticipated strong opposition from trucking groups but that only about 5,000 vehicles now operating in the state would be affected.

The tax on trucks weighing in excess of 26,000 pounds would be 1.4 mills per ton for each mile traveled in the state. The tax on buses with more than a seven-passenger capacity would range from one half to one cent a mile depending on size of the vehicle. Buses would get a 50 per cent reduction in license fees to offset the tax.

Attempts to hold up second reading of the identical bills were made in both houses but failed. The margin in the House was closer today. The Senate also had before it today a bill aimed at trimming revenues of school districts where property reassessment programs.

Continued on Page Three

Highway Dept. to Elect a New Chairman

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission probably will elect a new chairman at a meeting here tomorrow.

The session was set primarily to award contracts on approximately 4 million dollars worth of construction.

The two-year term of Glenn F. Wallace of Nashville as chairman is expiring.

Speculation for the new chairman has centered on Lawrence Blackwell of Pine Bluff and Vice Chairman Harry Parkin of Little Rock.

By seniority, Jim H. Crain of Wilson would be next in line for chairman. The Arkansas Democrat today said Crain was believed not to be interested in the chairmanship at this time.

Blackwell is co-author of the Mack-Blackwell constitutional amendment under which the commission now operates.

He was appointed to the commission to fill out an unexpired term left by death of Cecil S. Lynch of Pine Bluff. This term will expire two years hence. Parkin's term still has six years to run.

Tomorrow's meeting will be the first attended by the commission's newest member, Armit Taylor of Clarksville. Taylor's appointment to a 10-year term to succeed Raymond F. Orr of Fort Smith was confirmed yesterday by the Senate.

Besides the construction contracts, the commission tomorrow is expected to rapidly purchase of 322 new automobiles and trucks for the Highway Department.

State Purchasing Agent Mack Sturgis opened bids yesterday and reported that the total net low bids amounted to $382,875.29 plus 187 trade-ins.

Low bidders included Smart Chevrolet Co., Pine Bluff, and Central Motors, Searcy. Smart was low bidder on 105 units; Central on 92.

Negro Arrested and Liquor Still Seized

Officers raided a liquor still about a mile east of Powers yesterday and arrested Highways Moore Negro, operating the still. Seized two gallons of liquor and 150 gallons of mash. Taking part in the raid were Deputy Sheriff Herbert Griffin and State Police.

Prosperity is a period in which you can go broke more slowly

1-21

Kidnaped Baby Found Alive, Woman Held

NEW YORK (AP) — Month-old John Tavaraz, the second baby kidnaped here this month, was found alive and well early today in the apartment of a Puerto Rican couple. The infant was ill when abducted on Thursday.

Police said Ascension Ortiz, 23, limited taking the child from his room because she had a miscarriage 10 days ago. She and her husband Angel, a plastic dyer, have three children ranging from 1 to 8.

"It was because I lost my own baby," Mrs. Ortiz told police. "I had to make it up to my husband."

At first she denied stealing the Tavaraz baby, and claimed the one in the three-room basement apartment was her own. Her husband was convinced of her truthfulness at first that he supported her story.

Doraliza Tavaraz was taken to the Ortiz apartment and, weeping with joy, identified her baby from a mark on his neck.

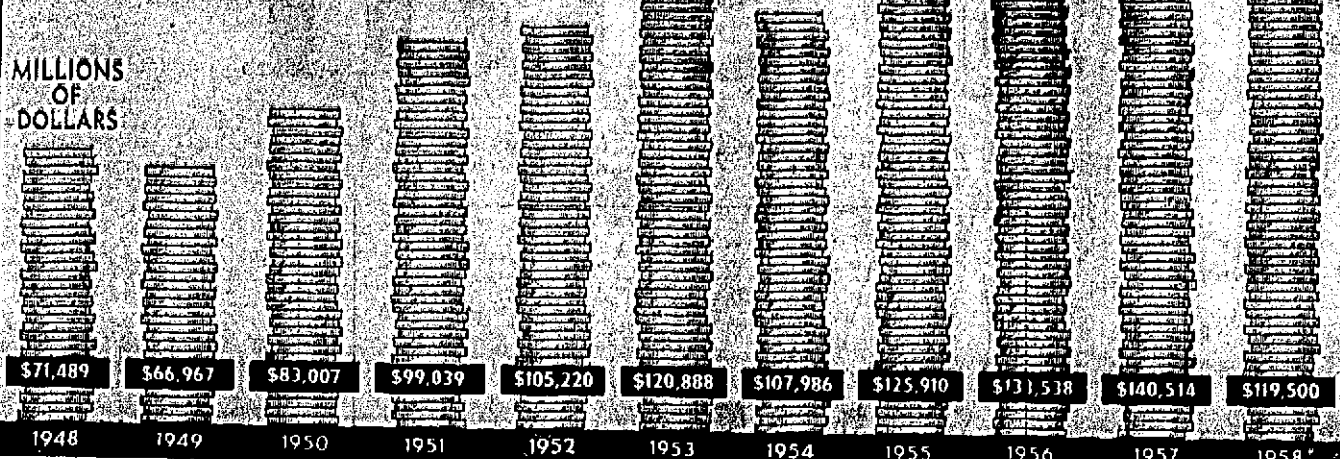

The 31-year-old Mrs. Tavaraz also identified Mrs. Ortiz as the "Clay's Garcia" with whom the child had been left while Mrs. Tavaraz went apartment hunting. The baby was gone when Mrs. Tavaraz returned home.

The two women had struck up an acquaintance at a hospital the day before Mrs. Tavaraz took her baby there for treatment of a possible cold. Mrs. Tavaraz, now 40, said she was in a location where the mother might find larger quarters.

Police said Mrs. Ortiz, a chubby woman with auburn-streaked hair, would be charged with kidnaping. Hundreds of police and FBI agents ran down scores of worthless tips in an effort to locate the kidnaped child.

Police credited solution of the case to a tip received on a special

Metalworking: America's Greatest Industry

Although manufacturers' sales in the metalworking industry declined in 1958 because of the recession, it is still the country's largest industry. At an estimated 119.5 billion dollars, sales were 15 per cent below the record 140.5 billion dollars of 1957, but still were the fifth highest on record. In the year-by-year comparison above, ordinance is not included, because the government does not reveal figures on it. But that classification accounts for only a small part of production for defense. Many defense items fall under other classifications, such as transportation equipment or instruments. Data here are from the Office of Business Economics, U.S. Dept. of Commerce, with figures for 1958 estimated by Steel magazine.

telephone line for public call about the base and the aid of the Spanish language newspaper El Diario.

The same type of tip on another special phone line had led to the finding earlier in the month of Lisa Rose Chiochio. The baby was located nine days after being stolen from a Brooklyn hospital nursery 2 1/2 hours after birth.

Chief of detectives James B. Loeggett said a check of footprints positively identified the Tavaraz infant.

Police said Mrs. Ortiz, a chubby woman with auburn-streaked hair, would be charged with kidnaping. Hundreds of police and FBI agents ran down scores of worthless tips in an effort to locate the kidnaped child.

Police credited solution of the case to a tip received on a special

telephone line for public call about the base and the aid of the Spanish language newspaper El Diario.

The same type of tip on another special phone line had led to the finding earlier in the month of Lisa Rose Chiochio. The baby was located nine days after being stolen from a Brooklyn hospital nursery 2 1/2 hours after birth.

Chief of detectives James B. Loeggett said a check of footprints positively identified the Tavaraz infant.

Police said Mrs. Ortiz, a chubby woman with auburn-streaked hair, would be charged with kidnaping. Hundreds of police and FBI agents ran down scores of worthless tips in an effort to locate the kidnaped child.

Police credited solution of the case to a tip received on a special

telephone line for public call about the base and the aid of the Spanish language newspaper El Diario.

The same type of tip on another special phone line had led to the finding earlier in the month of Lisa Rose Chiochio. The baby was located nine days after being stolen from a Brooklyn hospital nursery 2 1/2 hours after birth.

Chief of detectives James B. Loeggett said a check of footprints positively identified the Tavaraz infant.

Police said Mrs. Ortiz, a chubby woman with auburn-streaked hair, would be charged with kidnaping. Hundreds of police and FBI agents ran down scores of worthless tips in an effort to locate the kidnaped child.

Police credited solution of the case to a tip received on a special

telephone line for public call about the base and the aid of the Spanish language newspaper El Diario.

The same type of tip on another special phone line had led to the finding earlier in the month of Lisa Rose Chiochio. The baby was located nine days after being stolen from a Brooklyn hospital nursery 2 1/2 hours after birth.

Chief of detectives James B. Loeggett said a check of footprints positively identified the Tavaraz infant.

Police said Mrs. Ortiz, a chubby woman with auburn-streaked hair, would be charged with kidnaping. Hundreds of police and FBI agents ran down scores of worthless tips in an effort to locate the kidnaped child.

Police credited solution of the case to a tip received on a special

telephone line for public call about the base and the aid of the Spanish language newspaper El Diario.

The same type of tip on another special phone line had led to the finding earlier in the month of Lisa Rose Chiochio. The baby was located nine days after being stolen from a Brooklyn hospital nursery 2 1/2 hours after birth.

Chief of detectives James B. Loeggett said a check of footprints positively identified the Tavaraz infant.

Police said Mrs. Ortiz, a chubby woman with auburn-streaked hair, would be charged with kidnaping. Hundreds of police and FBI agents ran down scores of worthless tips in an effort to locate the kidnaped child.

Police credited solution of the case to a tip received on a special

telephone line for public call about the base and the aid of the Spanish language newspaper El Diario.

The same type of tip on another special phone line had led to the finding earlier in the month of Lisa Rose Chiochio. The baby was located nine days after being stolen from a Brooklyn hospital nursery 2 1/2 hours after birth.

Chief of detectives James B. Loeggett said a check of footprints positively identified the Tavaraz infant.

Police said Mrs. Ortiz, a chubby woman with auburn-streaked hair, would be charged with kidnaping. Hundreds of police and FBI agents ran down scores of worthless tips in an effort to locate the kidnaped child.

Police credited solution of the case to a tip received on a special

telephone line for public call about the base and the aid of the Spanish language newspaper El Diario.

The same type of tip on another special phone line had led to the finding earlier in the month of Lisa Rose Chiochio. The baby was located nine days after being stolen from a Brooklyn hospital nursery 2 1/2 hours after birth.

Chief of detectives James B. Loeggett said a check of footprints positively identified the Tavaraz infant.

Police said Mrs. Ortiz, a chubby woman with auburn-streaked hair, would be charged with kidnaping. Hundreds of police and FBI agents ran down scores of worthless tips in an effort to locate the kidnaped child.

Prescott News

Cub Scout Den 8 Meets

The weekly meeting of the Cub Scout Den 8, was held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Den Mother Mrs. Bill Beck.

David Fry gave the invocation which refreshments were served by Bill Oliver.

The Cub Scouts practiced the skit they will present at the monthly pack meeting Thursday night. They also practiced knot tying under the direction of Den Chief James Ellis Stewart.

Others present were Billy Hines, Mike Garner, Jerry and Gary day night. "I haven't got anything."

Willie then got out of the car, took a swipe at the gunman's chrome plate revolver, missed, and walked slowly across the street toward a grocery store.

"Stop or I'll shoot," the bandit warned.

"Go ahead and shoot," was Willie's casual reply.

Willie entered the grocery store and began dialing police from the pay telephone there. The bandit also walked into the store and tried to pry open the booth.

Evangelina Kirkland, proprietor, ordered the bandit to leave Willie alone and get out. The bandit, confused, wandered into the street and Willie completed his call.

Willie told police he fibbed about the money he had $25 in his pocket.

Beck and Johnny Redfern

Mrs. Delamar Entertains 47 Bridge Club Wednesday

Mrs. B. A. Delamar entertained the 47 Bridge Club with a dessert bridge at her home on Wednesday. Potluck azuleans and chrysanthemums were placed at vantage points in the party rooms.

The high score award was won by Mrs. Vernon Buchanan.

Mrs. J. H. Robertson, was a dessert guest and Mrs. Mark Justiss a dessert-bridge guest. Other members included Mrs. Jim Nelson, Mrs. Bob Reynolds, Mrs. O. W. Watkins, Mrs. Bill Oates, Mrs. Bob Yarbrough, Mrs. J. B. Franks, Mrs. C. R. Gray, Mrs. E. R. Ward, Mrs. Glenn Hairston and Mrs. Earl Eppeler.

Mrs. Eagle Spiritual Life Hostess on Wednesday

Eleven members of the Spiritual Life Group of the First Methodist Church met on Wednesday in the home of Mrs. J. A. Eagle.

Mrs. Lucy Nolen voiced the opening prayer and conducted the study on "Two or Three Together." The meeting closed with sentence prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stratman and John of Dallas were Wednesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Garland and Mrs. Max Kitchen, enroute to Decatur, Ga. where they will make their home.

Mr. Stratman will be assistant to the state clerk of the General Assembly, Presbyterian Church U.S. with offices in Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gee motored to Hot Springs Thursday for the day.

Mrs. Patricia Murphy has returned to Tulsa, Okla. after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Grimes and Mr. Grimes.

Mrs. Joe T. Smith of Arkadelphia was a Saturday visitor in Prescott.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Hooks and

HOMEOWNERS Now I Policy Protects You Against

FIRE
THEFT
WINDSTORM
EXPLOSION
SMOKE
LIABILITY
OTHER HAZARDS

The new Homeowner's Policy, now effective in this state, gives you all-around protection on your home, its contents and your personal possessions (at home or away) for less cost than ever before. Today, you need insurance protection against theft and costly liability suits that may occur on your premises. You can obtain this protection and other coverages in the new Homeowner's Policy.

Save 15% to 30%.

Roy Anderson Insurance Agency

Roy Anderson
Mary S. Evans
George Frazier
210 So. Main Hope, Ark.

Seaplane Goes Down, 1 Dead, 3 Missing

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A Navy seaplane with a crew of 10 crashed today into the waters of this Atlantic port. One crew member was known dead and three were missing.

Navy authorities said the plane was a twin-engine Martin P5M returning to the Norfolk Naval Air Station after a routine flight.

Its right engine failed and the halting craft plummeted into Hampton Roads, the Norfolk-Newport News port area.

Seven crew members were pulled from the water within an hour of the crash.

One, identified as Lyle V. Kundson of Norfolk, died after being hospitalized. The other six were not injured critically.

A search continued for the plane's pilot, Cmdr. Robert Murphy of Bayside, Va.; the copilot, Lt. Cmdr. Sherman Cagle of Marietta, Ga., and a third pilot, Lt. (j.g.) David H. Uter of Norfolk.

Cmdr. Delos Reeves, 5th Naval District search and rescue officer, said the plane crashed before it could complete its radar landing.

The six survivors were identified as Lt. (j.g.) Charles Granjean and enlisted men William C. Wease, James L. Solka and Doyal

Miss Susie Hooks, were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Kelly, and Johnnie in Nederland, Texas.

Miss Margaret Leece Phillips was a Friday visitor in Camden.

Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Duke and daughter, Jane Elizabeth of Little Rock, spent last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stockton and Mrs. Ray Duke.

Court Docket

Municipal Court of Hope, Ark., Jan. 26, 1959.

City Docket

Theodis Lindsey, carrying a concealed weapon. Plea guilty, fined $50.

Sam Shiloh, drunkenness. Plea guilty, fined $10.

A. T. Johnson, Carl Gilbert, drunkenness. Forfeited $10 cash bond.

Mary Lou Hopkins, disturbing the peace. Tried, found not guilty.

Claud Turner, disturbing the peace. Forfeited $25 cash bond.

Theodis Lindsey, disturbing the peace. Plea guilty, fined $25.

W. A. Pennington, Forrest B. Doggett, passing in a restricted zone. Forfeited $5 cash bond.

Arlio Cannon, Billy Rushing, hazardous driving. Forfeited $10 cash bond.

Gracie Lee Combs, petit larceny. Dismissed.

State Docket

Charles Brwin, Improper fall light on car. Plea guilty, fined $5.

Brindal Mulrow, no driver's license. Forfeited $5 cash bond.

Texas Associated District, no PSC authority. Forfeited $100 cash bond.

Kenny Fred Hockett, no transit tag. Forfeited $25 cash bond.

John E. Drescher, driving while intoxicated. Forfeited $50 cash bond and served one day in jail.

Harold E. Nalls, drunkenness. Plea guilty, fined $10.

J. Chapel Holaman, no PSC authority. Forfeited $100 cash bond.

Civil Docket

William B. Hopkins vs. Carl Evans, action for possession of a truck. Judgment for Plaintiff for possession of truck.

Toggerly Shop vs. Ambrose J. Reggans, Hope Brick Works, garnishee, action on account for $33.00. Paid and dismissed.

Toggerly Shop vs. Clmont McClure, Hope Brick Works, garnishee, action on account for $53.00. Paid and dismissed.

Barry's Grocery & Market vs. Lannie C. Jackson, Hope Brick Works, garnishee, action on account for $23.78. Paid and dismissed.

Charges of assault with intent to rob and assault with intent to kill were filed by Pulaski Prosecutor, Frank Holt against the four men held here.

They are Raymond Varner 19, of Grant's Past, Ore.; Floyd Martin of Little Rock, and Dunwood Gordon and Lucy Gordon Jr., both Negroes of College Station.

The sixth man is William Butler 19, who was arrested Friday night.

E. Wall, all of Norfolk; Andrew VanHuff, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Bobby W. Oliver of Eddyville, Ky.

Proclamation

Designating February, 1959, as American History Month

WHEREAS, during the month of February we celebrate the birth days of those two resolute American patriots, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln also that of Susan B. Anthony who did much to advance the status of women in our free America; and

WHEREAS, the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution is sponsoring February as American History Month throughout the nation and

WHEREAS, all thoughtful citizens must recognize that a full and complete knowledge of American History is not only desirable but essential to good citizenship;

NOW THEREFORE, I, George Frazier, by virtue of authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Hope in the state of Arkansas, do hereby proclaim the month of February, 1959, as American History Month in the City of Hope, and urge all patriotic and civic organizations, all schools, both public and private, and all at New Orleans.

Both Butler and Kiefer were held on warrants charging them with armed robbery.

Mrs. Duncan, 38, was wounded in the chest by a shotgun blast during the attempted holdup. The robbers fled without taking anything.

The defendant, MYRTLE ANN TOBIAS, is warned to appear in this court within thirty days and answer the complaint of the Plaintiff, JAMES AUBREY TOBIAS.

Witness my hand and the seal of said court this 12 day of Jan. 1959.

JAMIE RUSSELL, Clerk (SEAL)

Jan. 19, 20, 27, Feb. 3, 1959

citizens to give special emphasis to our glorious heritage as related in the pages of American History to the end that we may gain wisdom for the problems of today from the lessons of the past.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have subscribed my name and caused the seal of the City of Hope to be affixed.

George Frazier, Mayor

Vacancies

In respect to congressional vacancies, the Constitution makes an election mandatory to fill a vacancy in the House. It requires an election to fill a Senate vacancy, but permits a state legislature to authorize a temporary appointment.

Legal Notice

No. 8169 In the Chancery Court of Hempstead County, Ark.

JAMES AUBREY TOBIAS Plaintiff

VS. MYRTLE ANN TOBIAS Defendant

WARNING ORDER

The defendant, MYRTLE ANN TOBIAS, is warned to appear in this court within thirty days and answer the complaint of the Plaintiff, JAMES AUBREY TOBIAS.

Witness my hand and the seal of said court this 12 day of Jan. 1959.

JAMIE RUSSELL, Clerk (SEAL)

Jan. 19, 20, 27, Feb. 3, 1959

Buster Brown
SHOES FOR BOYS

Easy On ... Easy Off
CASUALS

You'll pride yourself in the selection of a pair of these sturdy, easy fitting casuals, come in and see for yourself.

$7.95

Sizes 3 to 6
Age 12 to 15

Keesey's Shoe Store

WHERE A CORRECT FIT IS A MUST
112 W. 2nd St. Phone 7-2211

Tom Gordon Returns in Another Star-Studded JOHN DEERE DAY

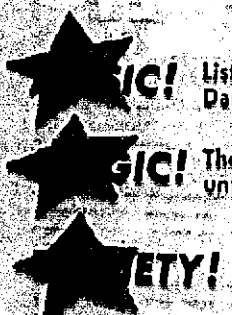

All-Family Film Program

"TOO YOUNG TO RETIRE" features the unpredictable Tom Gordon in a brand-new farming predicament.

THURSDAY, JAN. 29
7:00 P. M.

PORTER IMPLEMENT CO.

GIC! Listen to the famous Mid-States Four, and the John Deere Singers and Dancers present your favorite numbers.

GIC! The Great Johnstone, magician-comic, presents Max the Magnificent in an unforgettable escape act.

ETY! See internationally famous vaudeville team Willy West and McGinty, and xylophone artist Will Mahoney in their acts that have thrilled audiences from coast to coast.

PLUS... Oddities in Farming... What's New for 1959... a rare behind-the-scenes visit to the John Deere combine plant to watch them "Building the Big Ones."

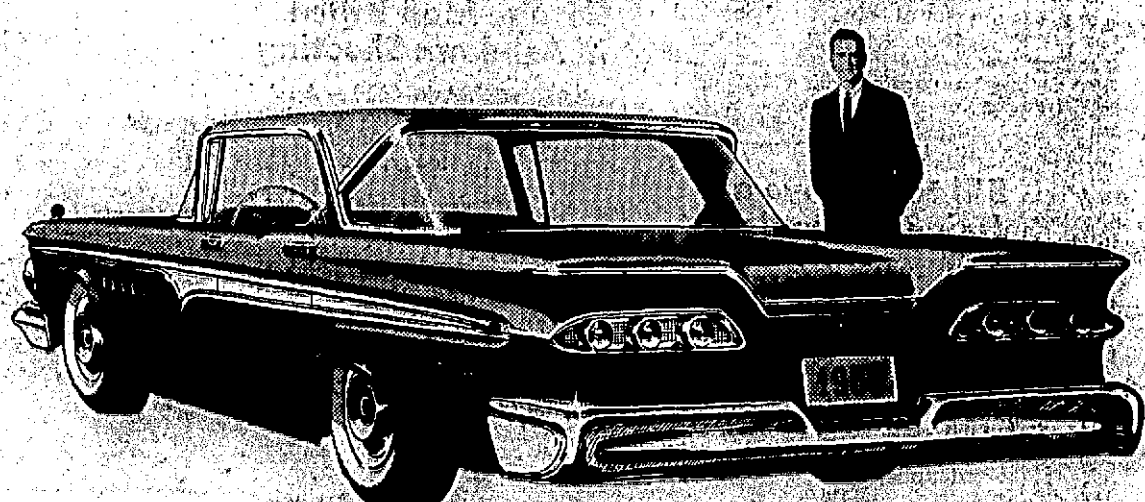

FREE to All Farmers and Their Families. Just Bring Your Free Tickets... Available Now at Our Store

Porter Implement Co.

1502 W. Third St.

Hope, Ark.

For the man who is fed up with paying too much for look-alike cars made to be the most distinctive car on the road—yet it's priced with Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth. And Edsel gives you many "eye-opening" extras that the low-priced field either forgets or charges extra for.

1959 EDSSEL

If you want to hear real enthusiasm—talk to a 1959 Edsel owner

HOPE AUTO CO.

"YOUR FRIENDLY FORD DEALER FOR 35 YEARS"
220 W. SECOND ST. HOPE, ARK. PHONE 7-2371

Look at this "Eye-Opening" Economy!
Extra Economy when you buy—you get more for your money—more size, room, comfort.
Extra Economy when you drive—you choose from four engines including two V8's that give you spirited performance on regular gas, and a thrifty Six as well.
Look at these "Eye-Opening" Extras!
Extra built into every Edsel—self-adjusting brakes, Diamond-Lustre finish that never needs waxing, wall-to-wall carpeting, electric clock, aluminumized multi-lens that last twice as long as ordinary ones, foam-rubber seat cushioning, and many others.

SOCIETY

Phone 7-431 Between 8 A.M. and 4 P.M.

Calendar

Tuesday, January 27
The Cosmopolitan Club will meet Tuesday, Jan. 27 at 7:45 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Frank Horton with Mrs. John McClanahan as co-hostess.

The Jett B. Graves Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church will meet Tuesday, Jan. 27 at 7 p.m. for potluck at the home of Mrs. Fay James with Mrs. Loyd Kinard as co-hostess.

Wednesday, January 28
There will be a meeting of all Girl Scouts, Brownie leaders and committees Wednesday, Jan. 28 at 2 p.m. at the Girl Scout Little House at Fair Park.

Thursday, January 29
Cub Scout Pack 92 will meet at Brookwood School Thursday, Jan. 29 at 7 p.m. Attendants of cubs 7 parents will be checked.

Ladies Bridge Luncheon will be held Thursday, Jan. 29 at 12:30 p.m. at the Hope Country Club. Co-hostesses will be Marie Hendrix, Mrs. Jud Martindale and Mrs. Charlie Harrell.

Notice

The regular monthly meeting of the Rebecca class of the First Baptist Church has been changed from Feb. 9 to Feb. 3. They will meet in the home of Mrs. Joe Hankins at 7 p.m.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Nix, Athens, Texas, announce the arrival of a son, Bryan Lee, born January 24. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Greenwald of Brenham, Texas; paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Owen Lee Nix.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Matney of Kettle Falls, Washington, left today after a ten day visit with Mr. Matney's uncle, John Odell and family. They plan to tour more of the southern states before returning to their home in Kettle Falls.

Mrs. Owen Nix left today for Athens, Texas, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Nix and to meet her new grandson, Bryan Lee.

Webb Laster, Jr. has returned from a meeting of collection agents from five states held in Jackson, Miss.

During this week, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Rogers of Oklahoma City, Okla., are visiting relatives and friends in Hope and Nashville.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Pentecost, Mrs. Claude Sutton, Miss Ann Sutton, and Mrs. Ray Lawrence attended the mid-year graduation exercises of the University of Arkansas on January 24, at which William Sutton received his bachelor of law degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Willis and daughter, Faye, went to the graduation at the University of Arkansas on January 24, and saw Mary Willis Snell receive her bachelor of arts degree. The Willis family spent Sunday in Summers, Ark., with the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Willis.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Thrash were among those at the University of Arkansas mid-term graduation last Saturday. Their son, Melvin, received his masters degree in business administration at that time.

Mrs. Leo Hartsfield has returned from Denton, Texas, where she has been at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Jerry Williamson, who is now recovering from recent surgery.

Hospital Notes

Memorial Hospital
Admitted: Mrs. Lula Allwhite, Emmet; Mrs. Cecil Hicks, McCaskill; Mrs. Clara Bowden, Hope; Bessie Maxwell, Rt. 3, Hope; Mrs. Verlan Breuer, St. Louis, Mo.; Theresa Breuer, St. Louis, Mo.; C. Robinson, Rt. 2, Hope; James Stanton, Saratoga; Mrs. Bobby W. Hampton, Hope; Travis Cearley, Jr., Rt. 1, Buckner; Mrs. Crit Stuart, Jr., Rt. 4, Hope; James Edward Rosenbaum, Columbus; Troy Burton, Jr., Rt. 1, Fulton; Mr. Guy Martin, Patmos; Mrs. Kenneth Kilgore, Hope; Mr. William C. Spears, Blevins; Debra Dewbre, McNab; Mrs. Wayne Bain, Washington; Mr. D. M. Kizzia, Hope; Mrs. Bill F. Richardson, Hope; Mrs. Phil Sutton, Rt. 6, Prescott; Mrs. Hanson

Only 6 More Days
Until You See!

Walt Disney's
TONKA
SAL MINO

SAENGER

SAENGER THEATRE

TONITE 6:30-8:00
DOUBLE HORROR SHOW

FRANKENSTEIN 1970
—Also—
GIANT FROM THE UNKNOWN

Starts Wed.
The Whole Heart and Hell Story of the Fighting U. S. Marines

Starring
• ROBERT WAGNER
• DANA WYNTER
• JEFFERY HUNTER

JERRY WALDS
IN LOVE AND WAR

COLOR BY DE LUXE
CINEMASCOPE

• COLOR CARTOON

Ship'n Shore
exciting new
"high tones"
in the best
no-iron blouse
3.98

seen in
YOGUE

The tried and true 65% Dacron-35% Pima blend! One of the most important blouses you can own! Ship'n Shore tailors it with a flair for flattery... with French-line collar, precise pocket. And it dries dry quickly, smoothly, after every sunding! In high tones, pastel tints and white. Sizes 30 to 34. Choose a no-iron Ship'n Shore Travelmate wardrobe!

Lewis-McLary

Highway Bond

Continued from Page One

are yielding, greatly, increased taxes. The proposal by Sens. C.E. Bell of Parkin and Charles F. Smith of West Memphis, would compel such districts to reduce millage rates or lose part of their share of state school funds.

A district would be permitted to gain 15 per cent more than its 1956 revenues plus revenues due to increased enrollment before the withholding feature began to apply.

And dealing with another school matter, the Senate completed action on a bill to make it more difficult to recall members of public school boards. The vote was 24-6 on the proposal which raises from 15 to 25 per cent the number of qualified electors who must petition for recall of board members. The bill amends an act of last August's special session.

In the House, a small but vocal group failed to prevent passage of a bill creating the Arkansas Rural Endowment Fund Inc. to disburse approximately two million dollars in federal funds now held by the Arkansas Rural Rehabilitation Corp.

The vote on the bill was 69-14, with Van Dalsen leading the opposition.

The House dealt Van Dalsen another blow when it killed, 57-32 his bill to create a State Weights and Measures Department.

In other major actions, the House adopted a bill fixing unemployment compensation maximums at $30 a week for a period of 26 weeks, and approved, 82-1, a resolution expressing the House as favoring provisions of the Mack-Blackwell Amendment. This is the amendment which created the present Highway Commission.

Alabama Judge

Continued from Page One

self who actually notified agents the records would be made available, he noted.

Accordingly, Johnson dismissed the contempt charge against the Clayton, Ala., lawyer, who was runnerup in the Democratic primaries for governor last year. He is regarded as a likely candidate for that office in 1962 or for the U.S. Senate next year.

Steel Firm Merger Plan Abandoned

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. announced today that their plans to merge had been terminated.

The government has opposed the proposed merger since it was first announced in 1954 and later obtained a Federal District Court injunction against it.

Counsel advised, the companies said, that an appeal could not be finally disposed of before 1960. In view of the desire of both companies to avoid continued uncertainty, they said, and to permit individual planning for the future, they have terminated the merger agreement.

Cites Threat of Soviet Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force leaders said today the Soviet Union has greatly increased her threat against the free world by development of intercontinental aircraft and missiles.

"In our opinion the answer to this threat is airpower and space power," Gen. Thomas White, Air Force chief of staff told the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Both White and Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas said Soviet success with satellites increased the dangers to the United States.

Rothwell, Hope; Penny Noble, Hope; Coy Yates, Rt. 1, Hope; James Smart, Rt. 1, Emmet.

Discharged: Mrs. Lonnie Ross, Rt. 2, Hope; Kenneth Rothwell, Hope; Mr. Lawson Ellis, Saratoga; Mrs. Wayne Bain, Washington; Debra Dewbre, McNab; Carol Ann Taylor, Hope; Mrs. Noble Thomas, Washington; Sanford Heather, Hope; Theresa Breuer, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Verlan Breuer, St. Louis, Mo.; Pearl Morris, Rt. 4, Hope; Mr. Guy Martin, Patmos; Mrs. B. E. Greene, Patmos; Mrs. Kenneth Kilgore, Hope; Mr. John Flowers, Hope; James Stanton, Saratoga; Mr. Bobby Joe Wright, Texarkana; John Edward Rosenbaum, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Robinson of Rt. 2, Hope, Ark., announce the arrival of a baby boy January 25, 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby W. Hampton of Hope, Ark., announce the arrival of a baby boy January 25, 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. Crit Stuart, Jr., of Rt. 4, Hope, Ark., announce the arrival of a baby boy, January 26, 1959.

Branch Hospital
Admitted: Mrs. Exie McClellan, Patmos; Mr. Don Brown, Rt. 1, Hope; Mrs. Bobby McKame, Rt. 1, Hope; Arlis Ferry, Jr., Rt. 3, Hope; Mrs. G. H. Black, Patmos; Mrs. G. E. Green, Patmos; Wendell Cox, Rt. 2, Hope; Mr. J. H. Pickard, Rt. 2, Hope; Mr. M. T. Hubbard, Rt. 4, Hope; Mr. W. M. Thompson, Emmet.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby McKame announce the arrival of a baby girl, January 25, 1959.

Discharged: Mr. Hiram Lemley, Hope; Mrs. E. R. Adams, Hope; Mrs. A. R. Haddix, Hope; Mrs. R. B. Cornelius, Hope; Rodney Thompson, Rt. 1, Hope; Janet Cox, Hope; Mr. Lester Ferguson, Hope; Mr. T. C. Lutzador, Hope.

This is the soft, uncluttered and very feminine look of suits and coats for spring. Interpreted in fine, lightweight fabrics suited to sunny spring weather, they are very wearable fashions. Suit (left) is in featherweight nubby silk and wool tweed in a mixture of black and white. It has single button closing, narrow scarf collar and skirt with loose front panel. Another version of the spring suit is this one (center) in a silk-and-wool tweed. It has jacket with gentle fit, indicated Empire line with front bow closing and kimono sleeves. The color is a bright blue. Coat in pale beige (right) is in an imported loop mohair fabric. It has Empire waistline with wide belt and high collar cut with standaway lines. All designs are by Molly for Jack Saraff. They demonstrate clearly the relaxed look of spring clothes.

WHATZIT?—Well, it isn't a photo of the other side of the moon snapped from a space vehicle. It's a bird's-eye view of a scale model of a chapel and detached Sunday school and other auxiliary rooms. It is proposed for St. Alban's Episcopal Church, Worland, Wyo., by the Architects' Guild of Casper, Wyo. The extremely modernistic structure features honey-comb windowed walls designed to illuminate the surrounding landscape with eye-catching light patterns from their hundreds of small windows pointing in all directions. This effect was created in the photo by a small flashlight bulb located inside the model chapel. The heavy black, curved lines are the edges of cardboard used to simulate the surrounding hilly terrain.

ALL DUNN IN—With a slight hangover apparent, four-year-old Sylvan Sundby has had a bellyful of a farm convention in Madison, Wis. He's snoozed off under a sign marking the area of Dunn County (Wis.) Farm Bureau, headed by his father.

DOROTHY DIX

Recipe For Old Age:
Enjoy What You Have

Dear Dorothy Dix:

You seem beset by letters from aging ladies who are dissatisfied, can't get along with their children, want to find romance (even at 70) and have lost all their friends. My recipe for a contented old age is nothing new but not enough people try it. I'm afraid. So maybe a little repetition won't hurt. I am a contented old lady with not too much of the world's goods. At one time I was quite well off. We owned a Pierce Arrow (whoever heard of it today?). I had vacations in Europe, a maid and lovely household possessions. They're all gone but my spirit isn't. I will not let what I cannot have and cannot do spoil what I can have and can do. I never say "no" to any plan proposed by others unless it's absolutely necessary. Everyone is kind to me and I'm grateful for the blessings I have instead of mourning about the good things I have lost. — Contented Oldster.

Dear O. O.: You have found the secret of happiness through a wonderful philosophy of life. I know many more like you but wish that all old people would adopt the same attitude. The big causes of an unhappy old age are inability to adjust to an altered way of life and refusal to accept the limitations of old age. Young people are usually blamed for not getting along with their elders but often it's the oldsters who won't

Bill Would Remove City Debt Limit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House today passed, 94-0, a bill to remove a five million dollar limit on bonded indebtedness of cities and towns.

Introduced by the Pulaski County delegation, the measure would leave untouched an indebtedness limitation of 25 per cent of the total assessed valuation of all real estate along with young folks. Older people who keep themselves sweet, nimble, sympathetic and appreciative will find themselves welcome anywhere. God bless you.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My brother and I are 14 years old. We are to read cool hep cats, good looking with builds that can't be beat. Trouble is, the girls hate us. — Morry and Judd.

Dear Kids: In the one and only you were Morry and Judd. Karl, a girl of 15 in love with a boy in her social studies class; and Ross a boy in trouble. Same handwriting, different plots and none of them good. Take a course in fiction writing, before you try again.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My twin sister and I are different in many ways but I think she is trying to be too different. She thinks it's all right to ask a boy into her bedroom. I think it's all wrong. Often we have clothes strewn around or the bed isn't made, and I don't think it's the proper place to entertain a boy — Bonnie.

Dear Bonnie: You rate an 'A' in this etiquette test. Boys should not be asked into your sister's bedroom. I should think Mom would put her foot down on Betty's social habits.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
During the Christmas holidays my neighbor's cousin visited her for a few days. We grew very fond of each other and, when he left, I asked if he would write. He said it would be nice but he's so tied up with school work and such that he might not be able to write. I've sent him three letters but have had no reply. Should I keep on trying? — Nellie.

Dear Nellie: Your efforts are appreciated only by the Post Office Department. The boy told you as well as he lawfully could that he wasn't interested in corresponding with you. Now he's shouling the message from the house tops. Stop writing.

Negro Laborer Is Fatally Injured

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A Negro laborer was injured fatally when the heavy metal door of a lumber kiln fell on him at a floor manufacturing plant here yesterday.

The victim was Charlie McWright, about 30, of Pine Bluff, an employee of the Arkansas Oak Flooring Co.

P. J. Bain, safety director of the firm, said McWright was found by fellow workers. Apparently he was alone when the 800-pound door fell on him, Bain said.

The kiln is used to dry lumber. Bain said an investigation had not been completed. He said it could not be determined immediately how the door broke loose from its hinges.

Bonus in Wet Areas Only Is Proposed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The House today voted to make a proposed war veterans bonus; to be financed by beer taxes, apply only to wet counties.

The bonus bill proposed by Rep. Gerald V. Parrott of Stone County, would impose an additional tax on beer to pay $1 a day for United and personal property in a city. The bill is one of several being pushed by the Arkansas Municipal League.

The five million dollar limitation has kept the state's larger cities from making capital improvements possible under their tax structure, backers of the legislation contended.

and personal property in a city. The bill is one of several being pushed by the Arkansas Municipal League.

The five million dollar limitation has kept the state's larger cities from making capital improvements possible under their tax structure, backers of the legislation contended.

and personal property in a city. The bill is one of several being pushed by the Arkansas Municipal League.

The five million dollar limitation has kept the state's larger cities from making capital improvements possible under their tax structure, backers of the legislation contended.

and personal property in a city. The bill is one of several being pushed by the Arkansas Municipal League.

The five million dollar limitation has kept the state's larger cities from making capital improvements possible under their tax structure, backers of the legislation contended.

and personal property in a city. The bill is one of several being pushed by the Arkansas Municipal League.

The five million dollar limitation has kept the state's larger cities from making capital improvements possible under their tax structure, backers of the legislation contended.

and personal property in a city. The bill is one of several being pushed by the Arkansas Municipal League.

Whale Succumbs to Jurisdictional Fuss

BRIGANTINE, N.J. (AP) — A whale found itself caught between a jurisdictional dispute and the deep blue sea. So, Monday it died.

The 1,000-pound mammal was washed ashore here during the weekend. There was a gash in its side, apparently from a boat's propeller.

Coast Guard and city officials debated whose job it was to get the whale off the beach. Meanwhile, the animal wheezed at the ocean side.

Finally, the New York Aquarium said it would give the whale a home. But the whale couldn't wait. About five minutes before an aquarium truck arrived, the whale passed on to happier swimming grounds.

States Service and $2 a day for overseas service to all veterans of the two World Wars and of the Korean War.

Rep. Raymond Mays of Cleveland County obtained adoption of an amendment which would make the proposed bonus payable only to veterans living in wet counties — the only counties, of course, in which beer sales are legal.

There was no indication when the bill will be called up for final action in the House.

Stone County is generally wet, but four townships are dry by local option. Cleveland County is wet except for Rison township.

NEW FROM KODAK

...and available
HERE right now!

BROWNIE Movie CAMERA
Stopsight 1/1.9
Meter-model/moviemaker
at this low, low price!

New dimension to Brownie movie-making — and now, Brownie movies are simpler, surer than ever! This new Brownie model has a built-in exposure meter with a pointer that shows right in the viewfinder. Just turn a dial to center the pointer (you don't have to take the camera from your eye) — and exposure is right automatically! Built-in flash, too!

$79.50
YOUR KODAK AGENT:
Ward & Son
Druggist
102 West 2nd Phone 7-2292

QUICK SALE
MRS. MAC'S CAFE
HWY. 67 EAST
ALL EQUIPMENT

The first qualified offer buys this new equipped Cafe, plus a wonderful business. All ready to open. Must be sold this week. The Doctor says for Mr. Mac to get out.

— Call me for appointment —
Mrs. Mac — Phone 7-4320

Other '59 cars too big in size and price?

Go—Rambler '59
the Compact Quality Car

Rambler sales are skyrocketing because Rambler can save hundreds on first cost, gives even more miles per gallon, Top resale value. Easier handling, parking. Personalized Comfort: sectional sofa front seats glide back and forth individually. See Rambler 6 and Y-8. At your dealer's now.

RAMBLER AMERICAN $1835
Suggested delivered price at Kansas, Wisconsin, for 2-door sedan at left. State and local taxes, if any, automatic transmission and optional equipment, extra.

THE TRADING POST 315 East Third Street, Hope, Ark.

YOU ARE INVITED—TEST OUR BEST

Hope Trans
415 East Div
Day Phone NI
7-3171 7

CHIC OF ARABY—Looking as if she stepped right out of the Arabian Nights is Patricia Wyman. The wife of Errol Flynn, Pat shows what can be done with just a few baubles, bangs and beads on her costume.

ON THE WAY—Shirley MacLaine has always been recognized as a great potential film actress. She's on her way now, due to a fine part in the new movie, "Some Came Running."

PLATES SHINE

As a safety measure, seven states now issue a reflective license plate which is reported to be 48 times more reflective than light glass reflectors. These plates shine up under headlights from distances up to a quarter of a mile.

Minnesota, a reflective plate user, reports night road fatalities reduced almost 4 per cent during the past two years.

M. S. BATES
District Manager
PIONEER
WESTERN
LIFE
Phone:
Prospect 7-4464
Hope, Arkansas

BUY THE
"Freshest Eggs in Town"
HAROLD STEPHENS
Land-O-Lakes Farm
Biology, Ark.
At Your Favorite Grocers

Memorials in Bronze
Provides Sculptural Beauty, and a Permanent Record at Mod. estate Cost.
Contact Salesmen:
Terrell Cornelius 7-2513-7-2227
Bluford McKee 7-4418

MEMORY GARDENS
"Perpetual-Garden" Cemetery
Hope, Ark.

Why Be Satisfied . . .
With Less Than The Best?
— Buy A New —
POULAN
POWER SAW
— From —
W. D. HULSEY
Washington, Ark.
Try These and You Won't Own Any Other

John Deere
TRACTORS
and Implements
PORTER
IMPLEMENTS & GARAGE
T. O. Porter, Owner & Operator
W. 1st St. Hope, Ark. 72327
JOHN DEERE DAY - JAN. 31

Screen Star

ACROSS

- 17 Screen star
- 18 Small space
- 19 Spheres of action
- 20 Leased
- 21 Series of steps
- 22 Abstract being
- 23 Social insect
- 24 Golf mound
- 25 Eternity
- 26 Born
- 27 Through
- 28 Crimson
- 29 Trample
- 30 He

DOWN

- 1 Weasel (Eng.)
- 2 Girl's name
- 3 Thrill
- 4 (Var.)
- 5 Child
- 6 Chemical suffix
- 7 Fortification
- 8 Subdued
- 9 He is a master of his
- 10 Beverage
- 11 Joined
- 12 Essential
- 13 Being
- 14 Fisherman's apparatus
- 15 Stair posts
- 16 Father or mother
- 17 More unusual
- 18 Short hair
- 19 Emerald Isle
- 20 Kind of grape
- 21 Deer horn
- 22 Fish eggs
- 23 Printing mistakes
- 24 Vigilant
- 25 Poster
- 26 Bay
- 27 Brazilian macaws
- 28 Forefather
- 29 High card
- 30 Marble
- 31 Legal point
- 32 Natural channel

CARNIVAL By Dick Turner

"I trusted Higgs, officer. I knew he was living well. But I thought he was stealing from the government!"

SWEETIE PIE By Nadine Seltzer

"I'm tired of mush. I just phoned the Chinese restaurant to send over some chow mein!"

SIDE GLANCES By Galbreith

"Can't you just see him in a cook apron?"

TIZZ By Kate Olson

"Just because I told Sandra I was jilting Herbie was no excuse for her to snap him up!"

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

"ADD MUSCLES - GET IN TRIM - REGAIN YOUR PHYSICAL DEXTERITY AND FEEL YOURSELF LITERALLY VIBRATE WITH NEW ZEST AND ENERGY!"

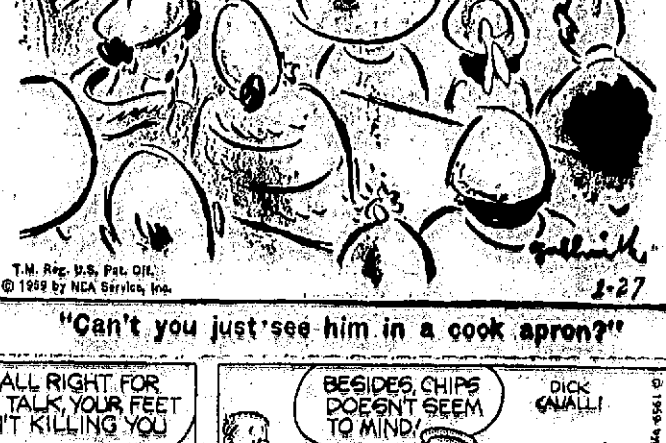

"HEY! POP! YOU'RE ON YOUR FEET! WILL YOU COME IN HERE AND SWITCH OFF THIS COMMERCIAL?"

"WHY, MR. MURPHY, YOU SHOULD BE ASHAMED OF YOURSELF!"

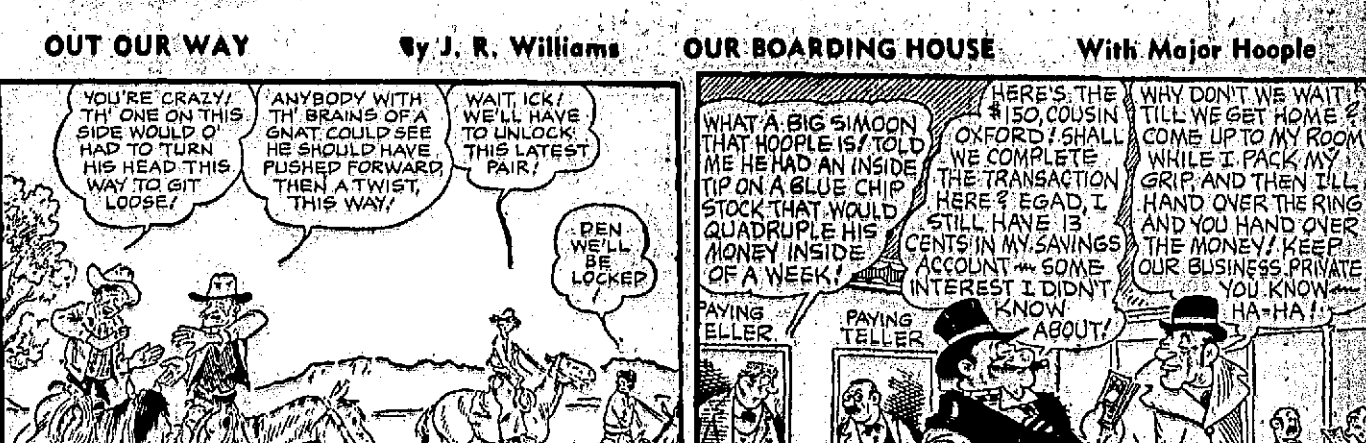

"YOU NEED TO COME TO DICK DALES' GYM AND SIGN UP FOR THE FULL BODY BUILDING COURSE!"

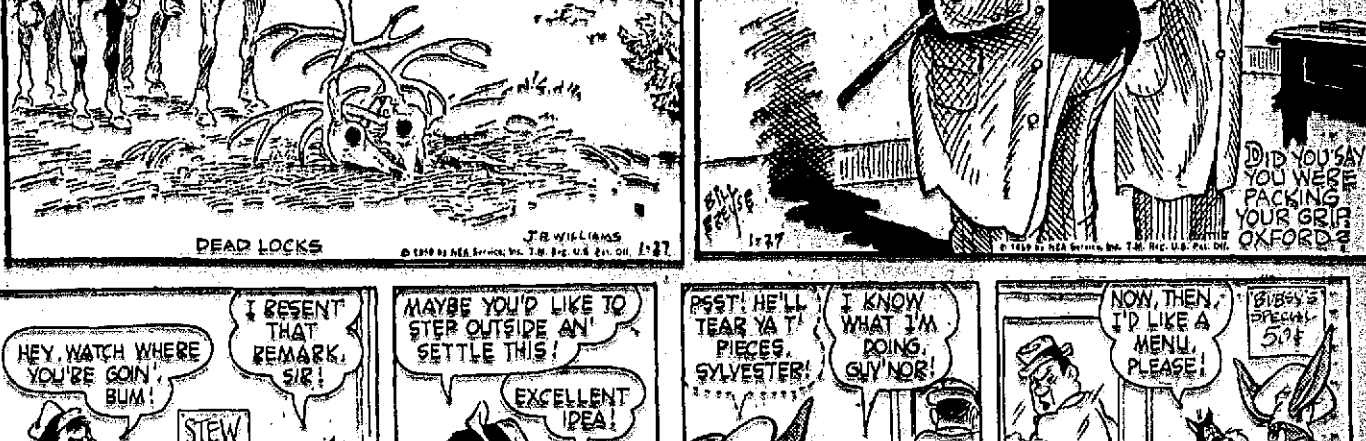

"HEY! POP! YOU'RE ON YOUR FEET! WILL YOU COME IN HERE AND SWITCH OFF THIS COMMERCIAL?"

"WHY, MR. MURPHY, YOU SHOULD BE ASHAMED OF YOURSELF!"

"HEY! POP! YOU'RE ON YOUR FEET! WILL YOU COME IN HERE AND SWITCH OFF THIS COMMERCIAL?"

"WHY, MR. MURPHY, YOU SHOULD BE ASHAMED OF YOURSELF!"

Douglas Heads Group Studying Ike's Budget

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic group, headed by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), a husky, white-haired ex-Marine and former college professor, took over as chairman of the Senate House Economic Committee which begins hearings today.

Chairman Raymond J. Saulnier and other members of the President's Council of Economic Advisors were called as the first witnesses in an intensive study of prices, employment, production and purchasing power.

Unlike some Democrats who have described Eisenhower's budget as inadequate and unrealistic, Douglas said he is willing to go along with the 77-billion-dollar spending ceiling Eisenhower proposed. But he disagreed on where the money should be spent.

The President has made cuts in the wrong places, Douglas said. "I think for instance, that a billion dollars could be saved out of funds for military supplies and equipment. With this money we could maintain the Army and Marine Corps at present strength and add 850 million dollars to missile expenditures."

He said money will have to be found for urban renewal, public housing, aid to depressed areas and school construction. He said reductions could be made in other activities but did not say what cuts he would make.

Douglas himself took the lead today in a move which would add $35 million dollars to Eisenhower's proposed expenditures.

In a statement prepared for introduction of an area redevelopment bill, Douglas called for an effective program to aid areas hard hit by chronic unemployment. Thirty-eight other senators joined in sponsoring the bill.

The measure would authorize total loans of 300 million dollars and grants to states of 75 million dollars. Eisenhower, who vetoed an area redevelopment bill last year calling for a 275 million dollar outlay, proposed only a 50 million dollar expenditure for the purpose in his budget message.

The ancient art of snake charming now is forbidden by city ordinance in Marrakesh, Morocco.

Across The Counter

Fred O. Ellis

"We need help," Jim Newcomer said. "We just moved here and need to get our insurance straightened out. Do you represent the Blank Insurance Company?"

"No, we don't," I replied, "and I don't think it is represented here at all. However, we will be glad to write to the company and secure the proper endorsement for you."

"That would be swell," Mr. Newcomer said. "What about my car insurance? I'm with the XYZ Company."

"Again, we will help you in event you have a claim, even though we don't represent that particular company. However, I would like to look at your policy to check the rates and coverages."

"Here it is," Mr. Newcomer replied, handing me his policy.

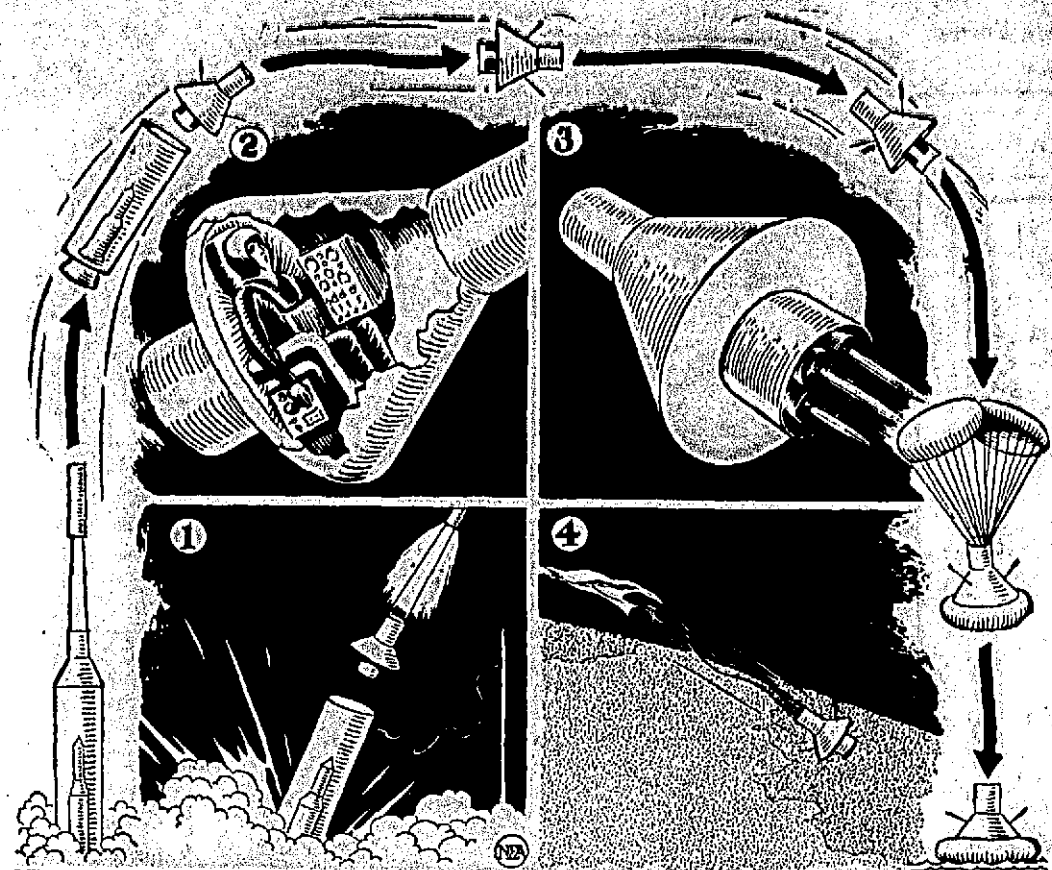

"You're in luck," I said. "The large city you came from has much higher rates than those locally. As a result, we can cancel this policy, and rewrite it at a net savings to you."

"Good," said Mr. Newcomer. "I'm certainly glad I dropped in."

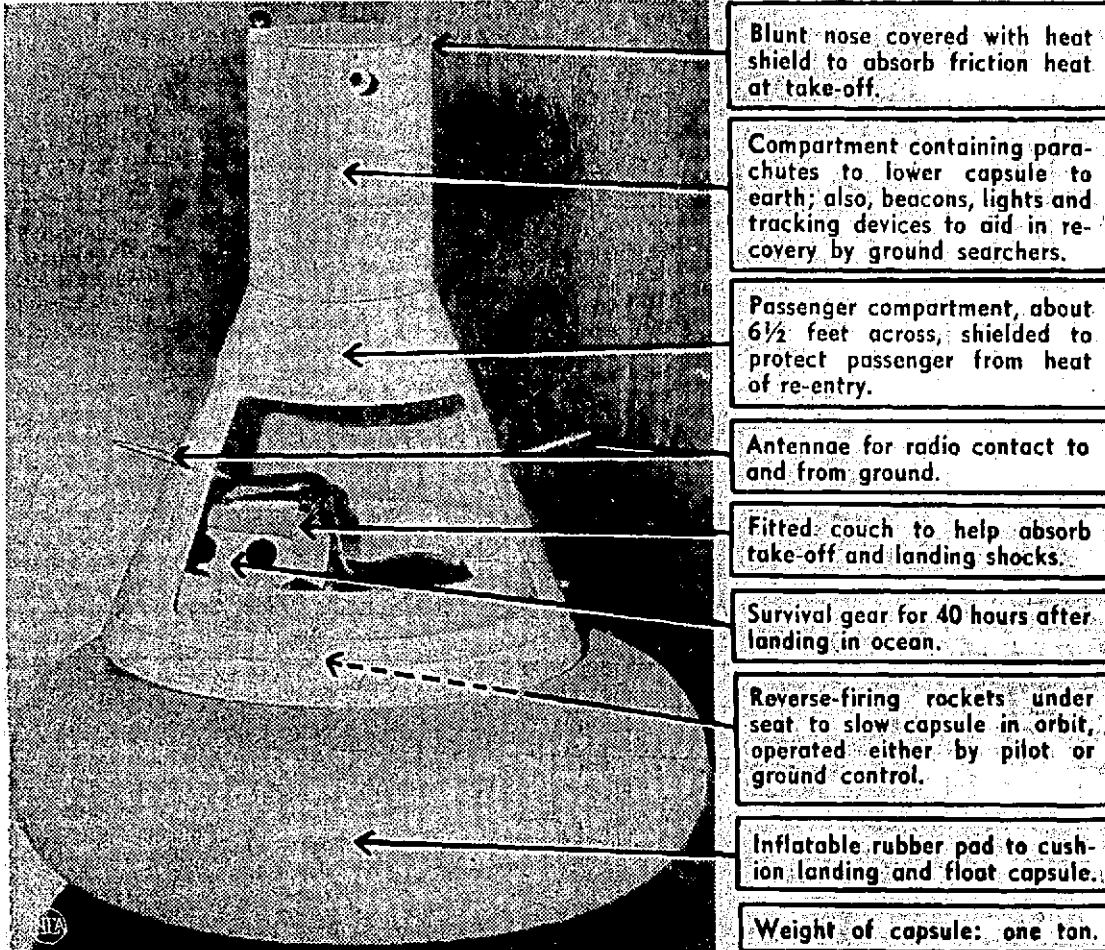

"We're pleased too," I said, "because we are always interested in helping newcomers with their insurance problems." "Naturally, there is no obligation for this 'Newcomer Service.' Stop by and get acquainted!"

Greening

Insurance & Realty Co.
208 S. Main St., Hope, Ark.

HOW MAN WILL DO IT—Drawings above enliven the firing of America's first manned satellite, "Project Mercury"—as it will happen within two years. Border sketches, linked by arrows, trace its path from start to finish. Numbered drawings illustrate safety features: (1) At launching, "escape" rocket is attached to capsule's nose. If anything goes wrong, it hurls capsule up and away from pad and a parachute opens. Otherwise, escape rocket is dropped in flight. (2) Inside his heat-shielded cabin, pilot is forced against fitted couch under nine times the force of gravity during blast-off. (3) Ready to descend from its 100 to 150-mile-high orbit, small rockets flip capsule around so that pilot is facing backward. Reverse-firing rockets brake its speed. (4) Parachutes lower capsule gently to ocean, where inflatable rubber pad cushions and floats it. All these devices are designed to be operated by pilot or by radio from ground.

"PROJECT MERCURY"—Work has officially begun on the first U.S. vehicle to carry a man into space. National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has ordered McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis to develop and build a one-ton satellite capsule. The work is expected to take at least two years at a cost of more than $15 million dollars. Shown above is a model of the capsule, called "Mercury." It is designed to place a man in a 100 to 150-mile-high orbit around the earth for up to 24 hours and return him safely. Probable booster will be the Atlas ICBM.

WILD SUMMIT

By MATT STUART

© 1958 by Matt Stuart
Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Gil Yeager pays a visit to his old ranch and gives Meade Bastian, who has seized it illegally, a week to get off the property. Then he repays Mitch Starker for having tried to spur him in town.

Yeager set his horse up, quieting it, while he put the heated bleakness of his glance on Meade Bastian.

"That's what I meant—when I said things could get rough. Panting breath from strenuous effort made his words uneven. He paused a little time before going on more steadily. "Maybe the next time that fellow Starker gets the urge to spur another man, he won't! All right, Jed—let's get out of here."

Jed wiggled the muzzle of his gun.

"You," he told Meade Bastian, "are taking a little walk. Jest in case one of them jiggers yonder by the corral gets ideas about a rifle and a try at some long range shooting." Yeah, you're comin' along with us to the top of the rise. Get movin'!

Bastian did not argue the point. He crossed the flat and climbed the low slope, with Yeager and Jed Mims riding along on either side of him. At the crest of the rise Jed growled: "This'll do. And about that luck business you mentioned what d'you think of yours, now?"

Bastian did not answer. He merely put a grayish blank glance on either of them, then turned and strode back down the slope. Jed Mims put his gun away, reached for his tobacco, let go a long sigh of relief.

"Am I glad that's over! What a pair of stittin' ducks you and me made. Gil should a combine feller been hid out with a rifle. Me, I felt as big and wide open as the side of Sheridan Peak."

Yeager spun up a cigarette of his own, shaking his head slowly. "Doubt they'd try anything as raw as that, Jed."

Jed snorted, slapped the heel of his hand against his saddle horn.

"Why d'you think I threw down on Bastian because he was reachin' for a gun, that's why. listen, Gil, don't you make no mistake about that feller. He's the sort to kill a man just like he'd step on a bug—if he figured it'd gain him any profit."

"Maybe," Jed peered at Yeager through a dribble of tobacco smoke, and now a hint of a smile pulled grimly at his lips. "Come to think of it, you weren't exactly gentle yourself, back there."

By the time Meade Bastian got back to the headquarters, the others had helped Mitch Starker to his feet and over to the bunkhouse, where he now sprawled on a bunk. His eyes were dull from shock, and full of a mixture of animal rage and pain and fear.

"Why didn't you stop him?" Bastian did not answer. His face was impassive still, only the deep, cold glitter in his eyes giving true hint of his feelings. When he did speak it was to the other riders.

"Help him get cleaned up. I'll send Doc Parrish out from town."

"No need," Starker blurted. "Aint that bad off. And I don't want word of this spread around."

Bastian shrugged, turned to the door. "Suit yourself. He went to the horse tethered in the shade of the poplars, stepped into the saddle and rode away to town."

Meade Bastian rode directly to the Golden Horn. Observing Ollie Ladd taking his ease on the courthouse porch, he caught Ollie's eye and waved a beckoning hand.

"Where's Hyatt?"

"The office," Ollie said. "Go get him. Tell him I'll be in Duke's back room."

Bastian moved along to the rear door, opened it and went through. Here was a square, fair sized room with a small safe in one corner, a table and several chairs scattered about. In one of these, Ollie was sitting at the table. Duke was at a half-burned cigar in his lips.

"Been expecting you. Starker gave you the word about Rand?"

"He did. And now is in near as bad shape as Rand."

Duke Royale straightened in his chair, his hard, obsidian black glance suddenly intent. "What do you mean?"

"I mean the same one who worked Brick Rand over, rode in at the Rubicon Creek headquarters. Him and that old wolf, Jed Mims. Yeager collared Starker and worked him over him with a spur. I mean that, literally. He tore Starker's shirt off and cut his marks all up and down Starker's hide."

"Duke Royale settled slowly back. "And you let him?"

"I let him. You would have, too. Don't—here, an edge of anger came into Meade Bastian's words and made them brittle.

"Don't try and throw the big game at me, Duke. You never saw the day when your nerve reached any further than mine, or that you could lick me, for that matter. That little point's been settled a dozen times since we were kids. I let Yeager work Mitch Starker over because Jed Mims had a gun stuck down my gullet."

Bastian hooked a chair with his toe, dragged it closer and sat down.

"Yeager did more," he went on. "He gave us a week to get off Rubicon Creek. Which was a laugh to me until I saw what he did to Starker. When you couple that with what he did to Brick Rand, why then you start thinkin' hard!"

"Thinking—what?"

"That we got a tough one on our hands."

Duke Royale spun the tip of his cigar in his pursed lips. "Tough, maybe, but only one."

CHAPTER XIV
Duke Royale stared across the room, his eyes all hard, wicked, black glitter. Trying for the sake of tobacco smoke, he found his cigar gone dead. With an explosive gesture he threw the butt aside and swung around to face Meade Bastian.

"He's an arrogant fool, and needs a lesson!"

Meade Bastian shook his head. "I'll go along with only part of that—the last part. Hyatt could stand some convincin', all right. But you were the arrogant one, not him. And he's no fool. Politely wise, he's as shrewd as Gil Yeager. He wouldn't be going stiff, logged on us unless he sees some-

Cold and Wet Spread Over the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold and wet weather spread across areas in the eastern half of the nation today but skies were clear in many sections.

A mixture of rain, freezing rain and snow slicked highways and streets in a wide belt from Kansas and Oklahoma across northern Arkansas and Missouri into the Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic states.

Cold air followed the wet weather. The biggest temperature drops were south of the wet belt extending from north-central Texas long the Ohio River to Virginia and southeast Pennsylvania. Temperature shaping up which he figures could give us considerable trouble."

Royale made another abrupt gesture. "We got this prairie in our hip pocket."

Bastian puffed strongly on his cigar and his eyes were frowning and thoughtful.

"Maybe we have," he said slowly. "And whether we can keep it so is something else again. It could be, you know, that we've grown fat and snug. Maybe things have come too easy for us. We took over this prairie with little trouble when you stop to think of it. We moved fast, bluffed and faked, and pulled only a few really tough strings. Ranchers like Yeager and old man Trezevant—that Dutchman, Hans Ogaard and the rest, they were surprised and caught off balance."

"There's no fight in that crowd," Royale stated. "If there was, they'd have shown some of it long before this."

"Maybe all they've needed was a leader," Bastian reminded. "And now they could have one."

"There wasn't anything to Yeager a year ago. From what Brick Rand reported then, Yeager was easier to handle than most of the rest."

"Which could have been because he had less chance to get rough than any of the others. Almost before he knew what was going on, he was behind bars. Besides," Bastian added drily, "as Clint Hyatt would remind us, that was a year ago. And Duke, did you ever stop to consider what we got to depend on in a real, all-out show-down?"

"We got what we've always had—the organization. And it's a good one, which we've come a long way with."

"A good one," Bastian said slowly. "Sometimes I wonder how good? Certainly it can be no better than the men in it. And how good are they? Until today I'd have picked Brick Rand and Mitch Starker as two of the best and the toughest. But it turns out they weren't near tough enough. This Gil Yeager, this easy mark of a year ago, has just plain whipped both of them. If I've learned anything in the past 24 hours, it is that all men can change. As witness Clint Hyatt. No, Duke—it comes to me that perhaps we've been taking entirely too much for granted."

"Oh, no," Royale said.

"I say the man is dangerous. I don't care what he was a year ago. Today he's trouble. And he could turn out the bee to set all the others buzzing."

They stood for a little time, facing each other across the round, green-felted table. Presently Duke Royale stirred.

"One answer comes to me."

"Yes?"

"It's simple enough," Duke Royale said. "Where there is no bee, there is no buzz."

Meade Bastian smiled, and in the pull of his lips an abrupt, cruelly flared.

"Duke, you read my mind."

As he and Jed Mims rode closer, the savory odors of cooking food reached Gil Yeager, reminding him of the fact that he had had no food since early breakfast that morning, now a long 12 hours gone. And the intervening hours had been anything but mild and leisurely. At the edge of the fire-glow, he and Jed stepped from their saddles.

"It's Yeager," somebody said.

The dim figures came out of the hiding darkness. A lank, gaunt old man who was Alec Trezevant. A lank, gaunt young man who was Harry Plume. And a stocky one who was Jack Swayze. Then a fourth figure who was slim and quick in a divided skirt and a man's woolen shirt, worn like a coat.

Yeager greeted the men with a reserved courtesy.

"Alec—Harry—Jack! But as he turned to the girl his tone gentled. "How are you, Anita?"

"Hello, Gil. It's good to see you again?" the words were even and soft, the tone melodious. You and Jed are just in time for supper."

Jed Mims, his glance swinging from one to the other, rapped out crisp words.

"Well, Alec—what is it? Do Gil and me stay here, or do we move on and make our own camp?"

Alec Trezevant cleared his throat harshly. "I'll do, here."

Maybe it would do, and then again, maybe it wouldn't. Gil Yeager mused while he unsaddled. It wouldn't if this present atmosphere endured. Trezevant's welcome was grudging and with obvious reservations. Not on account of Jed Mims, of course. Jed was one of the old pack accepters and believe me, Gil Yeager was the question mark.

(To Be Continued)

SHOW-OFF—Barbary sheep seems to be clinging to the brick wall like a fly. He's caught by a high-speed camera after racing up the wall and just before springing back in a playful leap. The sure-footed beast is at the Prospect Park Zoo in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Real Issues in Cold War Difficulties

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

For nearly three months now United States-British negotiators on the one hand and Russian on the other have sought workable agreement to ban atomic tests.

"The issues go to the core of almost all cold-war difficulties."

What are they?

Both sides agree on the danger to future mankind from continued, uncontrolled tests. Both sides profess to believe in the need for agreement, if only to halt one phase of the worldwide armaments race.

What then prevents it? The answer is, mutual distrust.

From the standpoint of the West at least, bitter experience has proved that any agreement with the Communists must be copper-riveted; every last detail written out. For example, it was Allied failure to write into the four-power agreement for control of Berlin a clause guaranteeing Allied right of access through Communist-controlled East Germany that left open to the Communists a legalistic excuse for trying to cut off Berlin altogether.

Reds Want Unanimity

The issues which face today's negotiators, and which threaten to delay agreement for months, if not forever, are these:

The right of veto.

How long to continue a test ban. The amount of control and the number and nature of the personnel needed to police it.

On issue No. 1, the Russians demand that all decisions be unanimous among the three nations party to the agreement. That means a built-in veto—the same sort of veto Russia has used nearly 100 times in the United Nations Security Council to hamstring decisions there and the same sort of veto that virtually has wrecked the Korean armistice.

In Korea, the Communists agreed that neither side should be allowed to increase armaments beyond that existing on the date of the armistice agreement. But the agreement was nullified by Communist refusal to permit Allied inspection teams into North Korea.

What then prevents it? The answer is, mutual distrust.

From the standpoint of the West at least, bitter experience has proved that any agreement with the Communists must be copper-riveted; every last detail written out. For example, it was Allied failure to write into the four-power agreement for control of Berlin a clause guaranteeing Allied right of access through Communist-controlled East Germany that left open to the Communists a legalistic excuse for trying to cut off Berlin altogether.

Reds Want Unanimity

The issues which face today's negotiators, and which threaten to delay agreement for months, if not forever, are these:

The right of veto.

How long to continue a test ban. The amount of control and the number and nature of the personnel needed to police it.

On issue No. 1, the Russians demand that all decisions be unanimous among the three nations party to the agreement. That means a built-in veto—the same sort of veto Russia has used nearly 100 times in the United Nations Security Council to hamstring decisions there and the same sort of veto that virtually has wrecked the Korean armistice.

In Korea, the Communists agreed that neither side should be allowed to increase armaments beyond that existing on the date of the armistice agreement. But the agreement was nullified by Communist refusal to permit Allied inspection teams into North Korea.

What then prevents it? The answer is, mutual distrust.

From the standpoint of the West at least, bitter experience has proved that any agreement with the Communists must be copper-riveted; every last detail written out. For example, it was Allied failure to write into the four-power agreement for control of Berlin a clause guaranteeing Allied right of access through Communist-controlled East Germany that left open to the Communists a legalistic excuse for trying to cut off Berlin altogether.

Reds Want Unanimity

The issues which face today's negotiators, and which threaten to delay agreement for months, if not forever, are these:

The right of veto.

How long to continue a test ban. The amount of control and the number and nature of the personnel needed to police it.

On issue No. 1, the Russians demand that all decisions be unanimous among the three nations party to the agreement. That means a built-in veto—the same sort of veto Russia has used nearly 100 times in the United Nations Security Council to hamstring decisions there and the same sort of veto that virtually has wrecked the Korean armistice.

In Korea, the Communists agreed that neither side should be allowed to increase armaments beyond that existing on the date of the armistice agreement. But the agreement was nullified by Communist refusal to permit Allied inspection teams into North Korea.

What then prevents it? The answer is, mutual distrust.

From the standpoint of the West at least, bitter experience has proved that any agreement with the Communists must be copper-riveted; every last detail written out. For example, it was Allied failure to write into the four-power agreement for control of Berlin a clause guaranteeing Allied right of access through Communist-controlled East Germany that left open to the Communists a legalistic excuse for trying to cut off Berlin altogether.

Reds Want Unanimity

The issues which face today's negotiators, and which threaten to delay agreement for months, if not forever, are these:

The right of veto.

How long to continue a test ban. The amount of control and the number and nature of the personnel needed to police it.

On issue No. 1, the Russians demand that all decisions be unanimous among the three nations party to the agreement. That means a built-in veto—the same sort of veto Russia has used near-

Man Dies While in Witness Chair

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—A Malvern businessman collapsed and died yesterday while in the witness chair in Hot Springs County Court here.

The death of Marvin N. (Pete) Keith, about 65, was attributed to a heart attack.

Keith was stricken while listening to a lawyer read a contract to Chancellor F.D. Goza. He had been testifying earlier.

Survivors include his widow and a son, Joe, of Malvern.

Crude glycerine is not derived from soap, but as a step in the manufacture of soap.

ly 100 times in the United Nations Security Council to hamstring decisions there and the same sort of veto that virtually has wrecked the Korean armistice.

In Korea, the Communists agreed that neither side should be allowed to increase armaments beyond that existing on the date of the armistice agreement. But the agreement was nullified by Communist refusal to permit Allied inspection teams into North Korea.

What then prevents it? The answer is, mutual distrust.

From the standpoint of the West at least, bitter experience has proved that any agreement with the Communists must be copper-riveted; every last detail written out. For example, it was Allied failure to write into the four-power agreement for control of Berlin a clause guaranteeing Allied right of access through Communist-controlled East Germany that left open to the Communists a legalistic excuse for trying to cut off Berlin altogether.

Reds Want Unanimity

The issues which face today's negotiators, and which threaten to delay agreement for months, if not forever, are these:

The right of veto.

How long to continue a test ban. The amount of control and the number and nature of the personnel needed to police it.

On issue No. 1, the Russians demand that all decisions be unanimous among the three nations party to the agreement. That means a built-in veto—the same sort of veto Russia has used nearly 100 times in the United Nations Security Council to hamstring decisions there and the same sort of veto that virtually has wrecked the Korean armistice.

In Korea, the Communists agreed that neither side should be allowed to increase armaments beyond that existing on the date of the armistice agreement. But the agreement was nullified by Communist refusal to permit Allied inspection teams into North Korea.

What then prevents it? The answer is, mutual distrust.

From the standpoint of the West at least, bitter experience has proved that any agreement with the Communists must be copper-riveted; every last detail written out. For example, it was Allied failure to write into the four-power agreement for control of Berlin a clause guaranteeing Allied right of access through Communist-controlled East Germany that left open to the Communists a legalistic excuse for trying to cut off Berlin altogether.

Reds Want Unanimity

The issues which face today's negotiators, and which threaten to delay agreement for months, if not forever, are these:

The right of veto.

How long to continue a test ban. The amount of control and the number and nature of the personnel needed to police it.

On issue No. 1, the Russians demand that all decisions be unanimous among the three nations party to the agreement. That means a built-in veto—the same sort of veto Russia has used nearly 100 times in the United Nations Security Council to hamstring decisions there and the same sort of veto that virtually has wrecked the Korean armistice.

In Korea, the Communists agreed that neither side should be allowed to increase armaments beyond that existing on the date of the armistice agreement. But the agreement was nullified by Communist refusal to permit Allied inspection teams into North Korea.

What then prevents it? The answer is, mutual distrust.

From the standpoint of the West at least, bitter experience has proved that any agreement with the Communists must be copper-riveted; every last detail written out. For example, it was Allied failure to write into the four-power agreement for control of Berlin a clause guaranteeing Allied right of access through Communist-controlled East Germany that left open to the Communists a legalistic excuse for trying to cut off Berlin altogether.

Reds Want Unanimity

The issues which face today's negotiators, and which threaten to delay agreement for months, if not forever, are these:

The right of veto.

How long to continue a test ban. The amount of control and the number and nature of the personnel needed to police it.

On issue No. 1, the Russians demand that all decisions be unanimous among the three nations party to the agreement. That means a built-in veto—the same sort of veto Russia has used nearly 100 times in the United Nations Security Council to hamstring decisions there and the same sort of veto that virtually has wrecked the Korean armist